Protect Your Tier IV Final Diesel Engine With Air1 DEF Fluid

Jerr-Dan is pleased to offer our customers Air1® DEF which has been certified by the American Petroleum Institute.

DEF is a product that is used to meet emission regulations that require diesel vehicles to significantly reduce harmful emissions and particulate matter. DEF is used to chemically reduce NOx emissions into harmless nitrogen and water through selective catalytic reduction (SCR) in which DEF is sprayed into the vehicle exhaust system.

Features and Benefits:

- Air1 is committed to providing high quality DEF products
- The Air1 parent company has been a pioneer in the DEF market
- Reliable and cost efficient DEF solution
- Savings over 18% when ordering bulk
